City Traffic Commission To Bring Test Unit Here

State Equipment to Be Here July 29; May Hold Added Examinations Sponsored By Albany Merchants

Albany motorists will be given an opportunity to test their driving skill Friday, July 29, when the local Traffic Safety Commission will bring the mobile State drivers' testing apparatus here for demonstration.

The equipment, the only apparatus of its type in the west, has attracted wide interest in its methods of revealing physical defects in drivers of all classifications. Its exhibition here is being heralded as an honor to Albany's Traffic Safety record, since the apparatus is widely sought by many cities throughout the State.

According to plans now being made by the Albany Traffic Safety Commission, a move will be made during the next week to augment the units of demonstration with a program featuring various driving tests, with prizes to be awarded drivers attaining the highest efficiency record. Plans also call for an entertainment program in conjunction with the event, Mrs. Lela Brunstein, Secretary of the Albany Commission said today.

Tentative features of the day's program will include prizes offered by A. D. Hackim of the East Bay Chevrolet Company, and showing of traffic films during the evening. The latter will be conducted as part of the regular meeting of the Traffic Safety Commission, which will name a site for the demonstration and program at a later date.

Features of the demonstration unit will include brake reaction tests, steering, or eye and hand coordination tests and brake tests, as well as an examination is estimation of auto speeds. A second part of the unit is devoted entirely to vision including tests for glare, color, field of vision and stereoscopic efficiency.

Albany to Be Divided for 1940 Census

Aid Accurate Count; Council Passes New Laws

Cooperating with the National Bureau of Census, Washington, D. C., and driving to secure an accurate count of the city's population, the Albany City Council Monday night passed a resolution empowering City Engineer H. I. Dygert to draw and section maps for presentation to the Census Bureau.

Lead by a suggestion made by Professor O. W. Campbell of the University of California Public Administration Bureau, Councilmen moved to follow the policy of several other cities and make preparations to subdivide the city into small sections in order that an accurate census could be taken for 1940 and continued in future years.

Previous census counts, Professor Campbell said, have been confused by the movement of population in area too large to allow accurate check.

The division of the city it was said, will include all property within the corporate limits of Albany with the now sparsely populated area west of the Southern Pacific Railway tracks to be included.

Councilmen indicated that they will ask the Chamber of Commerce and other interested citizen groups, to meet with them next week when division plans are laid.

Giving new aid to their warfare against drunkenness and drunk driving, Councilmen Monday night passed to print an ordinance which it is believed will eliminate all loopholes for persons arrested on drunk driving and intoxication charges.

With a clause inserted to strike at the use of narcotic drugs, the new law will prohibit drunkenness or being under the influence of intoxicating liquor, or under the influence of narcotics, within the corporate limits of Albany, while in or upon any street, or public place, or in, on or about an automobile.

Reason behind the law, Councilmen said, was to prevent persons under the influence of intoxicating liquor from escaping charges by turning over the wheel of a car to a sober friend.

Also passing to print was an ordinance regulating the handling of vagrants which will allow the Police Department to float "pan-handlers" out of the city instead of "boarding" them during a jail sentence.

Both the drunk and vagrancy ordinances will become effective in 30 days.

The City Council instructed the engineering department to place boulevard stop signs on both sides of the Santa Fe Railroad tracks at Brighton Avenue during their meeting Monday night. Recent construction of a building at the crossing, it was reported, has limited visibility and made the crossing dangerous.

Rescue Sammy Martino From Water Ditch

Rescuing persons from drowning is a matter exactly suited to Kenneth Stevenson, of 1048 Ramona Street, and one requiring quick thought.

Sunday, while walking along an irrigation ditch near Modesto, with friends, Stevenson heard a small voice calling for help. It took but a moment to locate the source; the voice of little six-year-old Sammy Martino, far over his depth in the six feet of water of the ditch, and struggling to keep his head above the surface.

Without hesitating to throw off his coat, Stevenson dove into the water and dragged Sammy safely to shore, little the worse the wetting, but very shaky.

Sammy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Martino, of 1151 Portland Avenue, had been playing about in the ditch with several of his friends but had allowed himself to be chased too far toward the center and out of reach of his playmates.

The largest representation from one Troop in the Berkeley-Contra Costa District, 21 members of Albany Boy Scout Troop No. 42 will return tomorrow from a two-weeks summer camp at Wolfboro.

Carlevaro to Sell Out Business

"Selling out to the bare walls. That was the announcement made this week by C. Carlevaro, owner of the New Avenue Market.

In announcing that he will close his market at 920 San Pablo Avenue, Carlevaro stated that he will sell his entire stock and fixtures between now and the first of August. Making this closing of his two-year-old modern market possible, he began a sale this week of all articles in the store, to be sold at deeply slashed prices.

Although retiring from the retail grocery business, Carlevaro has stated that he is not leaving Albany. A resident here for the past 26 years, he has acquired large real estate holdings which will demand his presence here for some time to come.

Carlevaro arrived in Albany during a period when Albany was still in the process of becoming a city, and opened up a shoe store on the site of the present S. P. Corner Store.

As the city grew, he was forced to move to larger quarters until finally he left the shoe business entirely, to open the New Avenue Market at

Electric Plug Patent Is Granted Dr. L. Walter

Delayed for four years for improvements, investigation and clearance of patent rights, official patent was this week granted to Dr. Laurence Walter's "Original Handy Plug," an electrical appliance, by the Federal Bureau of Patents, Washington, D. C.

First applied for four years ago, patent was this week granted to the structural design of the electrical plug following the close of a case before the Patent Bureau in which claims of eight British and American inventors were dissolved. Other assertedly like appliances, it was said by C. N. Lavers, attorney for Walter, failed to be proven as similar to the Walter electrical plug.

Patent grant, it was stated, was delayed until recently because of a wish of Dr. Walter to both improve on the plug and secure the protection of the patent application. The patent grant will hold for 17 years from date of issue.

Granted on the structural design of the appliance, patents are also pending on the prongs and for a "female" or opposite end to be used in attaching electric flat-irons and other appliances used in the home. These latter two are still pending before the Patent Bureau.

One of the few electrical plugs officially approved by the National Board of Fire Insurance Underwriters, the plug has been placed on the market at a retail price of 10 cents. Two organizations, the Albany Sales Company of Albany, California, and the Albany Sales Company of New York City, Incorporated, have been created for exclusive distribution and manufacture of the article. Distribution is at present being taken care of by the New York City firm.

Patent procedure for Dr. Walter's inventions, is being handled by C. N. Lavers, attorney-at-law, 1057 Solano Avenue.

Break Ground for New Post Office

With no ceremonies to herald the event, ground was broken Monday morning for Albany's new post office building to be erected on a government selected site at the corner of Solano and Cornell Avenues.

Although it is customary for ceremonies to mark beginning of such a construction, Albany officials decided that it will be best to wait for completion of the building, Postmaster Frank M. Whiting said.

Awarded last week was a contract for painting and decoration of the new building which was granted to W. E. Woolworth, prominent Albany painting contractor.

Ex-Member Appointed at Special Meet

Board Names 5 New Teachers; Ask School Bids

Filling a post left vacant since last May, Walter Teasdale, well known Albany citizen, was appointed as fifth member of the Albany Board of Education, at a special meeting of the Board held last Tuesday evening at the Marin School.

Appointment of Teasdale was made in the absence of Dr. Jack L. Stein, President of the Board, now on vacation.

A former member of the School Board, Teasdale was appointed by a majority vote following a motion by Leon H. Hess, seconded by Frank V. Hays. Contrary vote was cast by Board member Lawrence F. Williams.

Appointment of a fifth member to complete the board was made necessary last May with the resignation of Mrs. Josephine Foley. Teasdale, a member of the Board for eight years, who dropped from office this year at the close of his official term. He will take up his duties at the next meeting of the Board, Tuesday, August 16. Teasdale is in business as an Insurance Broker with offices at 1015 Ramona Street.

With a net reduction of four cents in the city tax rate shown as a result of economies in budget during 1937-38, budget appropriations for 1938 and 1939 were placed before the Board and adopted as recommended by County Superintendent of Schools, Edgar E. Muller. Public hearing on the new budget will be conducted during the first full week in August.

The tax rate reduction, it was said, was brought about by economy measures practiced throughout the past year both in the purchasing department of the school system and in the general administration.

Authorization of taking of bids for construction of fourth unit of the Albany High School building was made with date for taking of bids set as August 9.

Upon recommendation of Albany Superintendent of Schools, Allen Kelm, five new teachers will fill vacancies in the school system.

Teaching Creative Art at Cornell School, contract of Miss Lucia Staib of San Francisco and formerly a teacher at San Juan Batista School near San Luis Obispo was given approval by the Board. Other teachers employed include: Miss Brita Bowen, English instructor with 9 years experience, will conduct English and Journalism class at Albany High School; Miss Constance James, formerly of the San Francisco school system, will teach music classes at Marin School; Miss Jessica Wayland, graduate of San Francisco State Teachers College and Arts and Crafts College, Oakland, with three years teaching experience, will conduct creative art in Marin School; Elmer Venter, three years experience at San Jose, will take charge of social studies classes.

Activities at Albany "Y" And Community Center

(An Agency of the Berkeley Community Chest)

Scheduled to begin play at the termination of the present girls' league, a new soft ball league is now in the process of organization by the Albany-Contra Costa County Athletics Association.

Regular meeting of officers will be held Tuesday night in the Albany YMCA building, at which time business of the new league will be taken up.

The Albany Zephyrette's at present playing in the current league, is to be bolstered by the addition of several new players, and will have added strength to carry the mound duties for the team. Though the team has been in a hitting slump, the new players will add the extra power that has been lacking with the bat.

Any teams interested in playing in the new league can do so by making reservations at the Albany "Y", or by phoning Thornwall 2049.

Towns expected to enter teams are Berkeley, Emeryville, Richmond, two teams, Crockett, Vallejo, Albany, and Martinez. The purpose of the league is to provide activities for girls and young women until the start of basketball season.

ZEPHYRETTE'S HEAD FOR

SECOND PLACE

The Zephyrette's will start their drive in the final round to take possession of second place in the league standings. Caletti Service girls of Richmond are in first place with a record of being undefeated in league play. Frank Spenger's Grotto girls are in second place, one game ahead of the Zephyrette's and Colgate Palm Olive Peet Co. girls hopelessly in the cellar with only four games won out of two of these games were won by forfeit.

With the addition of three new players, and the return from their vacations of four of the players the Zephyrette's are now in a better position than at any other time since the league started, to make their bid in the league standings. The Zephyrette's are managed by Tal Wiley recreation leader at the Albany "Y", and of the Albany recreation department.

Word was received by Tal Wiley organizer of the girls teams at the Albany "Y" that a reservation for a girls basketball team. And another for the Zephyrette's in the softball playoffs. The basketball teams coached by Wiley set two records in last seasons league play. They are one of the two Eastbay teams to participate.

The date of the playoffs are not set, as yet, but are to be held in the exposition grounds on Treasure Island, during the fair next year. The reservations have been filed for the teams.

Wiley states that it depends on the calibre of the teams he will have in January whether or not he will hold the reservations for the teams. Though much of the ground work is done in regards to the basketball teams for this season, several new players having been already signed, as well as the formation of a basketball league to follow the softball league.

Covering an average city block in area, the Coliseum will comfortably seat 8500 spectators. ### Net Income Must Regulate Amount Of Home Payment

Safety in purchasing a home means sound financing, according to the Northern California district office of the Federal Housing Administration. It contends that there should be definite relationship between regular income and the amount invested, and that monthly installments paying off the mortgage, interest and other fixed charges, including taxes and insurance, should not be more than normally would be budgeted for rent.

Economically sound budgeting, in the parlance of FHA, is when the total investment in house and lot does not exceed two and one-half times the annual income, and monthly payments are not more than 25 per cent of the monthly net income.

"Net income" was defined as the amount remaining from salary or earnings after payments on notes, automobile, furniture or other installment obligations have been deducted.

Under this interpretation, it was pointed out, a person earning $200 a month, but buying an automobile on monthly payments of $35 and with other installment obligations amounting to $15 a month, actually would have a monthly, "net income" of only $150. The latter

Howard Hughes Trip Is Tire Test

When Howard Hughes and his crew landed at New York after circling the globe in four days, the record-making flight represented one of the most grueling tire tests in aviation history, according to R. J. Loomis, San Francisco district manager of the B. F. Goodrich Company.

Tires under the huge over-loads of gasoline necessary to make the long hops over the Atlantic and across the steppes of Siberia were of vital importance to the success of the flight, Loomis declared.

Goodrich is proud to have been identified, through its airplane tires, with another world's air record, beginning with the historical flight of Charles A. Lindbergh, and including those of Clarence Chamberlain, W. S. Brock, Sir Kingsford-Smith, Admiral Richard Byrd, the late Wiley Post, and many others, Goodrich tires were used.

The tires on the Hughes airplane were of standard transport size and construction, Loomis added.

figure, according to the Federal Housing Administration, should be used as the basis in determining the amount safely to be invested in a home.

THE EARTH CROWS SMALLER

Now that Howard Hughes has flashed round the globe, cutting the world on corners, the earth has taken another big notch in her belt. His amazing flight is more than a spectacular tribute to American men and materials. Daring trailblazers like Lindbergh, Post, and Hughes chart out the skylines which commercial planes will soon after follow on routine schedule. The airways over the vast wastes of the Pacific and of the Caribbean are already traversed regularly as clockwork. Soon innumerable flight tests across the Atlantic will culminate in the launching of permanent air service bringing Europe within a day's sky journey of America. Hughes' speedy flight round the northern zones of the earth is a significant herald of the day when America will be linked with the countries of North Europe and Asia through the far shorter Arctic routes cutting over the North Pole. His resourceful and admirably managed flight is something in which America takes just pride!

It takes money, steel, concrete, and the good will of nations to stage a successful Olympics Games tournament. Japan is shy on money, her industries are shy of steel and concrete, and her military men are shy of good will. ### BUY AMERICAN

The manager of a large city hotel put "Buy American" on hundreds of signs distributed around the highways and then buys and wears English made shoes, because they are cheaper.

A California produce company advertises in all the show-houses "Buy American." Just look at the faces of the individuals who plant, pick and handle the tomatoes in the fields. They work cheaper.

A shoe store merchant advertises "Buy American Made Shoes" and he buys his flowers from the Jap, because they are cheaper.

A steamship company advertises "Buy American" and ship your goods on American liners. The whole crew, with the exception of a few officers, are Chinese, Phillipinos and Japs, because they work cheaper.

There is a business block in the downtown section of Oakland of seven stores, only one store is rented and that by a Chinese Curio. He sells cheaper.

The Chinese meat markets downtown are doing a rushing business. Most people walk or ride down there on the street car. Did you notice the new Cadillac car one of the proprietor's rides to work in? He sells cheaper.

Who buys American? YOU should, but I buy where I can buy the cheapest.

As long as YOU SHOULD buy American we will have Depression and as soon as I buy American we will have Prosperity.

(Editor's Note—Our thanks to Dick Kronke of the Kronke-Brampton Company for the above Editorial. Although, it's only been during the past year that the slogan "Buy American" has been adopted by leading merchants throughout the United States, Mr. Kronke has built one of the most successful businesses in the Bay Area by following out his plans of "Buy American," put into operation immediately upon the birth of his own business many years ago.)

FRANCE, CHILE TO BUILD TREASURE ISLE PAVILIONS

Participation of France in the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition has been assured, with the approval by the French Ministers of Foreign Affairs, Commerce, and Finance of a decree appropriating 10,000,000 francs ($279,000) to assist a French exhibit on Treasure Island.

A building site 30,000 square feet in area has been reserved for the French pavilion. Although details have not been worked out, arts and crafts, de luxe trades and travel will be made central exhibit themes.

Chile, one of the most important countries in the Southern Hemisphere, announced participation in a statement by President Arturo Alessandri to United States Ambassador Norman Armour and Benno A. Schoch, Exposition Commissioner, at the presidential palace in Santiago.

A special Chilean pavilion will be built on Treasure Island to house a comprehensive exhibit in 1939.

inhale rich, bracing, steam-heated air, panes of city apartment rooms, and youth with good neighborliness! Now that the government has called off the games, Japan can concentrate on chasing the Chinese, an even more harrowing sport.

A DOG'S LIFE

They say truth is stranger than fiction. Now we can believe it. Here's the American Veterinary Medical Association, meeting in the East for its 75th annual convention, reporting that city dogs live longer than country dogs! In other words, the urban pooches who amble on hot pavement circumnavigate the city ex-live two or three years longer than their country cousins. The veterinarians are handy with reasons to explain this.

The poor country dog, it seems, is afflicted with all sorts of grief — too much exposure to the sun, climatic changes, irritations from contact with vegetation. This may be true, but we'll leave it to the humble pooch himself to decide. And we'll give odds any upstanding animal would prefer to frisk over the country fields and lanes, even if it does give him fallen arches and deep circles under the eyes!

Travel Expert Sees Big Trek West in 1939

The two great World's Fairs in San Francisco and New York next year will greatly stimulate travel from abroad to the United States and at the same time create a record-breaking, intra-America tourist movement.

That is the prediction of A. G. Collins of London, overseas manager of Thomas Cook & Son and George W. White, manager of that travel company's American department.

Collins and White were visitors in San Francisco on a swing across America and Canada, laying ground-work for the anticipated 1939 travel upsurge.

The Briton said there is tremendous interest in the fairs, throughout Europe, and in Australia. New Zealand, Central and South America and South Africa.

White, whose headquarters are in New York, is greatly interested in the Golden Gate International Exposition's nationwide travel promotion campaign, which stresses the theme "See All the West in '39". He said this progressive promotional program undoubtedly would be a great stimulant to travel.

Ice-Blue Slipper Satin for Evening

Eleanor Powell wears an ice-blue slipper satin evening gown, bolder to the figure. Toe-length in front, the skirt allows for a slight train. Over it, the Metro-Godwyn-Mayer star wears a midnigh blue chiffon evening coat, with double-roll collar to waistline fastening of six tiny buttons.

The coat is tailored closely over the shoulders and fitted to the waistline, from which it flares into fullness to sweep the floor in a train much longer than that of the gown.
